Child/Adolescent Mental Illness: Why YOU Matter

Liza Long is a writer, educator, mental health advocate, and mother of four children; one of whom has bipolar disorder. Liza was thrust into the spotlight after publishing her blog titled "I am Adam Lanza's Mother" just days after the Newtown, Connecticut school shooting in 2013. She is also the author of "The Price of Silence: A Mom's Perspective on Mental Illness. Liza will speak candidly about her families experience with mental illness and what each of US can do to be a part of positive change!

Who should attend:

- Do you work with children/adolescents?
- Do you ever wonder how to explain to your child about another child in their class who may be violent, disruptive, or seemingly out of control?
- Do you hear about school tragedies and wonder what needs to change to protect our children?
- Is your family struggling with this issue in your own home?
- Do you have a friend or family member dealing with mental illness?

If you answered yes to any of these questions, this presentation is for you.
