I find these proposals of more public access troubling. I don't care reading about marriages, births, divorces, bankruptcy, minor crimes or DWI's in the paper. People make mistakes in their lives. Why should the whole world learn about it. We shouldn't be paying money to a local paper to publish these life's problems or encourage our neighbors to data mine our personal business. I think you get the drift.

We are going to have budget issues again in the state legislature; this is one issue the courts don't need to fund. Spend the money on more judges or other pressing issues. PRIVACY
