Request for 4 day extension

Comes now Appellant Mark Rath and requests a four day extension to filing his response in this matter, that though the issues are closely woven together, there are still four briefs to read through, therefore; Appellant requests four days to file his responsive brief addressing numerous issues raised by mainly Thomas Jacksons brief and a small few raised by the states brief. Given the nature and complexity of the arguments needing to be raised, an extension would be appropriate to give appellant a little more time to articulate the issues.

Dated this 1st day of December 2022
